

Now

Pat McGee Band

This time it's up to her
She's tired of waiting
She only wants what she deserves
There's no escaping
The fact that she's older and life's turning colder
She's finding it hard to stay warmAfter the stars fall down
And there's nothing for wishing on
After the good-bye sound
And love leaves her alone
She picks herself up off the ground
She won't bow down
She's come too far to give up nowHer friends all think it's so sad
She must be lonely
She can't help sometimes but laugh
She knows they're only
Trying to help her
But if they really know her
They'd know she's comin' into her ownAfter the stars fall down
And there's nothing for wishing on
After the good-bye sound
And love leaves her alone
She picks herself up off the ground
She won't bow down
She's come too far to give up nowShe's not sure just where she's going
She's not owning nobody
She just wants the simple life
Where they all leave her aloneAnd now she's comin' into her ownAfter the stars fall down
And there's nothing for wishing on
After the good-bye sound
And love leaves her alone
She picks herself up off the ground
She won't bow down
She's come too far to give up now

Songwriters

Mc Gee, Pat / Houston, JamiePublished by

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>