High

Emmy Rossum

Just twenty-four more hours but I'm not [Incomprehensible]
Eternity until I have you by my side
Anticipation rising, the seconds pass so slow
I listen for your heartbeat like a knock upon the door
Feel me, breathe in slow motion, lose control
Just let go and let this dream take over
I wait for dawn to fall again so I can be alive and then
By your side I will give in to this high
Surrender now to ecstasy, move with me and make me real
Count the hours till I can feel this high
The silver sky surrounds us, a secret symphony
The world is blasting into color, you're with me
And I'm not thinking clearly [Incomprehensible]
Love, don't leave me lonely, just carry me away
I am yours, take me over, lose control
Just let go and let this dream take over
I wait for dawn to fall again so I can be alive and then
By your side I will give in to this high
Surrender now to ecstasy, move with me and make me real
Come the hours till I can feel this high
Frame by frame it's repeating, for this I have been waiting
I feel myself awaking from this high
I try so hard to hold on when the sun is rising
Twelve more hours to go until this high
Surrender now to ecstasy, move with me and make me real
Count the hours till I can feel this high
Just twenty-four more hours but I'm not [Incomprehensible]
Eternity until I have you by my side
