Miss Behavin'

Emery

No she won't, she won't, she won't wait
No she won't, she won't, she won't wait
No she won't, she won't, she won't wait
No she won't, she won'tAlways what you meant, never what you said
Passing over me like a book you've read
But I let it fall, valet every wish
Take my hands and eyes, but I beg you this
"Offer me one kiss"If it's her you want, this is what it takes
If it's her you want, this is what it takesLet's get this over
(Let's get this over)
Discuss and deny something, soon we simply just lie
(Let's get this over)
And wait and see if you choose something like me
If you just open your eyes, you could get out of this
But your such a success, you're just not built for itI never knew
(I never knew)
How much it takes to accept
I never knew
(I never knew)
How much it takes to accept
That you're a fakeIf you just open your eyes, you could get out of this
(If you just open your eyes)
But your such a success, you're just not built for it
(If you just open your eyes)If you just open your eyes, you could get out of this
(If you just open your eyes)
But your such a success, you're just not built for it
(If you just open your eyes)Sometimes I think you just need some time
Sometimes I think you just need some time
Sometimes I think I need some to get along without
To get along without(To get along without)
Everyone's saying that they've got the answers
(To get along without)
But hope is deceiving and spreads like a cancer
To get along without
