Lullaby

Hundred Reasons

Heart bleeds for now its temporary
Alone for now you embrace is waiting
Playing down was just an act should have opened up before
To you I've given all my love just wish I could give more
You always look at me and stare,
I am not here to save you from it all,
Well, why is it you always have to stare
It does not mean I will not ever fall.
Heart bleeds for now still temporary
Life time with you is all I could wish for
It's like I've waited my whole life to live my memories with you
I would not trade a single thing
Like you I want it all
You always look at me and stare
I am not here to save you from it all
Well why it is you always have to stare
It does not mean I will not ever fall.
I caught me a whisper now dance in my hand.
