No Stone Unturned

Heathen

I'm looking for a reason, I'm watching the signs
This head on collision is a race against time
Is this an illusion? It seems so unreal
This manifestation is drawing me nearSomething to grab a hold of Capture a glimpse from the mind's eye
Releasing all that I contain
And all I perceive to beFeel the pressure building
Got to take this journey on my own
I have to seize the moment
Leave no stone unturned until I'm doneJust like a vapor, moments flash by Way beyond measure like the infinite sky
Realization, a token of faith
A constant reminder of my ultimate graveWith nothing to hold on to Cherish each breath until you die
The sands of time have been measured line by line
A calculation designed for the feastFeel the pressure building
Got to take this journey on my own
I have to seize the moment
Leave no stone unturned until I'm doneUntil I'm gone, until I'm gone
Until I'm gone
Leave no stone unturned
Dead and gone
Leave no stone unturnedI feel this pressure building
I've got to take control
I have to seize this moment
Leave no stone unturnedThe past reveals the future
Can we embrace our fate?
The imprint has no boundary
Leave no stone unturnedLeave no stone unturned
Until I'm done
Leave no stone unturnedLeave no stone unturned
Until I'm done
Leave no stone unturnedLeave no stone unturned
'Til I'm dead and gone
