Ask

Sharon Van Etten

let's find something that can last like cigarette ash, the world is collapsing around me let's try to do the best we can i think i need more than the flowers and letters, manit's not that i don't try, it's that you won't again and it hurts too much to laugh about it yes, it hurts too much to laugh about ithey, please think about it, friend i know you're lonely, i'm here writing in the dark trying to get the balls but it hurts too much to askdo i need someone who's lost tell me how not to stop all these tears and fears so nothing else will drop so all this pain will stop but if it hurts too much ask if it hurts too much to ask Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/