Mother

Charlie Puth

He's such a nice boy, so well-mannered
He's so much better than the last one you brought around
Please and thank you, everything mattersI'm gonna make sure that she knows I'm the best she's foundFor the moment she walks out that door
I'm not pretending anymoreIf your mother knew all of the things that we do
If your mother knew all the things we do
If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
If your mother knew all the things we doSneak out the window, pass over pillows
I'll be waiting in the car right around the block
Back of the Benzo
More than a friend zone
We've been hiding since the time they forgot to knock
For the moment she walks out that door
I'm not pretending anymoreIf your mother knew all of the things that we do (yeah)
If your mother knew (if your mother)
All the things we do (all that we do)
If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
If your mother knew all the things we do (oh)Next time that she sees me
She gon' act like she don't know me
'Cause she knows all of the story
Now your daddy wants to kill me (ah)
Next time that she sees me
She gon' act like she don't know me (no)
'Cause she knows all of the story
Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah, yeah)
If your mother only knew (ooh)
For the moment she walks out that door
I'm not pretending anymoreIf your mother knew all of the things that we do
If your mother knew all the things we do (we do)
If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
If your mother knew all the things we do (from you, oh)Next time that she sees me (hey)
She gon' act like she don't know me
'Cause she knows all of the story
Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah)
Next time that she sees me
She gon' act like she don't know me
'Cause she knows all of the story
Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah)If your mother knew all the things we do
If your mother knew all the things we do

If your mother knew all of the things that we do

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/