Waking Up the Giants

Grizfolk

Careful waking up the giants
He's a big man and a better man than I am
He'll rise up when we hear the sirens
Where's the truth when your heart's not lying?

I believe that the end's not dying
I only listen to the wind when it's crying

We're the rhythm of the darkest nights
We're the truth that's been left unspoken
We're the shadows far beyond the lights
We're waking, waking, waking up the giants

Sail away, the water's rising
Leaving our progress behind us
Right before we fail, we'll find it
Right behind the storm it was hiding

I believe that the end's not dying
I only listen to the wind when it's crying

We're the rhythm of the darkest nights
We're the truth that's been left unspoken
We're the shadows far beyond the lights
We're waking, waking, waking up the giants
We're the rhythm of the darkest nights
We're the truth that's been left unspoken
We're the shadows far beyond the lights
We're waking, waking, waking up the giants

Waking up the giants
Waking up the giants
Waking, waking, waking up the giants
Waking, waking, waking up the giants

We're the rhythm of the darkest nights
We're the truth that's been left unspoken
We're the shadows far beyond the lights
We're waking, waking, waking up the giants
We're the rhythm of the darkest nights

We're the truth that's been left unspoken
We're the shadows far beyond the lights
We're waking, waking, waking up the giants
Waking, waking, waking up the giants
Waking, waking, waking up the giants
