

Photographic Memory

Surrogate

The worst part of a photographic memory
Is that you never know what's gonna take
Your piece of mind

I wanna drive down the 5 and spend some time in MexicoThe best part of a photographic memory
Is that I always know how much it takes

To get me back to where I've been

And which road will take me thereTen years since we made it
I'll drive with certainty
To try and recreate it

To serve my memoryIt's not your fault, try and understand
All my friends just moved away

It's not your fault, try and understand

All my friends just upped and moved awayTen years is a long time without seeing you
And I never thought I'd see you again

I'm taken back, I'm used to living in my headLet's try and make like the old times
And it's lucky that I didn't forget

To document the things we did

But sometimes it's not the sameTen years since we made it
I'll drive with certainty
To try and recreate it

To serve my memoryIt's not your fault, try and understand
All my friends just moved away

It's not your fault, try and understand

All my friends just upped and moved away
