

Every Story (from Aida)

Michael Ball

Every story, tale or memoir
Every saga or romance
Whether true or fabricated
Whether planned or happenstance Whether sweeping through the ages
Casting centuries aside
Or a hurried brief recital
Just a thirty-minute ride Whether bright or melancholy
Rough and ready, finely spun
Whether with a thousand players
Or a lonely cast of one Every story, new or ancient Bagatelle or work of art
All are tales of human failing
All are tales of love at heart This is the story
Of a love that flourished
In a time of hate Of lovers no tyranny could separate
Love set into motion on the Nile's shore
Destiny ignited by an act of war Egypt saw the mighty river as it's very heart and soul
Source of life for all her people
That only Egypt could control Destruction of her southern neighbor, justified
Nubia exploited, left with little more than pride, oh
