Spring

Ben Watt

You know this,have faith in spring
And in above and everything
Keep the curtains open
Push the window wide
Let the early morning tumble insideThis is really happening
You can rest in bed
Let the silver moments fall on your head
My love , it's real ,my love
It's not over
It's not overSay goodbye to winter that keeps you locked inside
Where the clouds just seem to linger over the hill side
Than the light is gone by far
And the mornings break so cold
Everyone in the right mind might feel oldMy love, it's real, my love
It's not over
It's not overWe break the wall to undertake
You must have faith in spring
But in the spring queen cause I'm the king
And you can be the one how shinesMy love, it's real, my love
It's not over
It's not over
You must have faith in spring
