

Slowly Surely (Theo Parrish Remix)

Jill Scott

Slowly, surely, I'll walk away from
That old desperate and tainted love Caught up in a maze of love, the crazy, crazy love
Thought it was good, thought it was real
Thought it was, but it wasn't love I just don't know where I should go So, slowly, surely, I'll walk away from Self-serving, undeserving, 'constantly hurting me' love
Deserting me love, you said, I said, we said But, slowly, surely, I'll walk away from Confusing love, misusing love, abusing love
This can't be
Slowly, surely, I'll walk away from
Self-serving, undeserving, 'constantly hurting me' love I just don't know where I should go, no
I just don't know, know, know, know
Where I should go So, slowly, surely, I'll walk away from
That old desperate and dazed love Caught up in the maze of love, the crazy craze of love
Thought it was good, thought it was real
Thought it was but it wasn't love I just don't know where to go So, slowly, surely, I'll walk away from
I'll walk away from
Slowly, surely, I'll walk away from love
Lonely, surely one step at a time
But surely, I will pass the old love aside
And love me Slowly, surely, I'll walk away from Slowly, surely, I'll walk away from desperating days love
Caught up in the maze love
Crazy, crazy, crazy love Slowly surely, I'll walk away from Slowly surely, I'll walk away from
Slowly surely, I'll walk away from

Songwriters

THOMPSON, DONALD / SCOTT, JILL Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc., Universal Music Publishing Group
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>