

Home to Me

Jessica Mauboy

There's something different Somethings changing in the air Another breath and Another step will take me there I don't know where
The story ends I know I'll be ok I've realised it's not a place or thing That makes a home home home to me home to me
If I had nothing at all with nowhere deeper fall
I still believe that I on the header and I'll never stop I'll always find where I belong cause I know where I came from I'll always find where I belong Forever changing always moving like the wind and I am learning there's always somewhere to begin
I don't know where the story ends and I know I'll be ok yea I've realised it's not a place or thing That makes a home home home
to me home to me
If I had nothing at all with nowhere
deeper fall
I still believe that I on the header
and I'll never stop I'll always find where I belong cause I know where I came from I'll always find I'll always find where I belong because I know were because I know were because I know where I came from I'll always find where I belong Forever changing And moving like the wind Always somewhere to begin If I had nothing at all with nowhere deeper fall
I still believe that I on the header
and I'll never stop I'll always find where I belong cause I know where I came from (I'll always find were) I know (I'll always find where I belong because I know were) because I know (because I know where I came from I'll always find were) I'll always find (I'll always find were I belong) because I know where I came from I'll always find where I belong.
