Little Echo

Violet Indiana

Looking back safe in the future
I can see the love that I was used
To call my sanity
Is just slipping awayLonely life that offers
Empty self destruction
And seduction tenderness
Overcame my wayThose days, have fallen behind me
Those days, start calling behind meEveryday a desert would be
I could see the world
Caving in on me
Looking in to meDisguising and guiding
Through blindness
And my own insecurityThose days, have fallen behind me
Those days, start calling behind me
