

Drowning

Nate Wants To Battle

Let is all fall out
Like a river running
You cannot deny this
That your kingdom's falling down
It never ends

You're gonna see you'll never land in shambles
You're on the brink but you can see you're drowning
We rise and fall until a different level
Magic Luck ran out
You're fighting back, don't know what you've been thinking
Oh, was your burden
Can you see you're sinking
Hide in the shadows, can you find your demons
Can you face yourself

You rise and fall
Like a current about to end
You could end it all
But now what's left now to defend
It never ends

You're gonna see you'll never land in shambles
You're on the brink but you can see you're drowning
We rise and fall until a different level
Magic Luck ran out
You're fighting back, don't know what you've been thinking
Oh, was your burden
Can you see you're sinking
Hide in the shadows, can you find your demons
Can you face yourself

I know you think that our new king isn't fair
Leaves you gasping for air
Breathing all this despair
This ocean of hate

You're gonna see you'll never land in shambles
You're on the brink but you can see you're drowning
We rise and fall until a different level

Magic Luck ran out
You're fighting back, don't know what you've been thinking
Oh, was your burden
Can you see you're sinking
Hide in the shadows, can you find your demons
Can you face yourself
