

Accidental Life

Teenage Fanclub

Give in to me now I want you
I know the past comes back to haunt you
There are satellites in heaven
Watching everything you do This is a battle that you're losing
And life was never more confusing
Now you're looking for a way out
Of your accidental life [Chorus]
But now your life is on the line
You can stay inside but you're out of time You can't reason in your condition
And now you see life as a mission
Maybe I know what your missing
Tell me what you're going through All your problems are distractions
Still waiting for the main attraction
And you're looking for a way out
Of your accidental life [Chorus: Repeat x2]
