Symphony

Lindstedt

Here I go again in my dreamy eyes
I should be content but something's just not satisfied
It's nothing that you did, I'm still on your side
I can't love you if I'm not sure who I am inside
'Cause there are some questions that need some answers
What is it I'm really after?
The clock's ticking so I can't wait around
This is my now, this is my today
No more sitting on the side
Waiting for my chance to play
Time to step out, so much to say
But I'll never get the chance if I don't break away
And write my own symphony, write my own symphony
I gotta write my own symphony, write my own symphony
Just let me write my own symphony
I've always got my head way up in the clouds
Something in me wants to fly away and leave the ground
If you could hear my thoughts when no one's around
Then you'd understand my fear of being held down
'Cause I wanna explore the world around me
Dance under the stars above me
And be free to make my own mistakes
This is my now, this is my today
No more sitting on the side
Waiting for my chance to play
Time to step out, so much to say
But I'll never get the chance if I don't break away
And write my own symphony, write my own symphony
I gotta write my own symphony, write my own symphony
Just let me write my own symphony
'Cause every minute you're here with me
It gets harder to turn and walk away
But I gotta chase my destiny
No matter how hard or long it takes
This is my now, this is my today
No more sitting on the side
Waiting for my chance to play
Time to step out, so much to say
But I'll never get the chance if I don't break away

And write my own symphony, gotta write my own symphony
Write my own symphony but I can't if you're here with me
I gotta write my own symphony
Let me go and write my own symphony
Write my own symphony
Need to go where you can't follow me
Just let me write my own symphony
