Shower Kisses

Sam Grow

those boardwalk lights cut in and out as lightening flashed through the dark of the clouds we stood there laughing while everyone ran wrapped in eachother and a twister of sand falling in love while the sky above was falling down its that moment in time when the stars all align yeah its perfect

and with one given chance, we gave into romance
it was worth it
i thought love in the rain was such a cliche til i fell and ended up missin
shower kisses

skin on skin steam on glass we were too young to know we were movin too fast i watched the mascara run down her face, cut a path cross her body down to the drain guess our flame in the water wasnt meant to last

its that moment in time when the stars all align
yeah its perfect
and with one given chance, we gave into romance
it was worth it
i thought love in the rain was such a cliche
til i fell and ended up missin
those shower kisses
those shower kisses

yeah we stood on that pier holding back tears she was shakin when we said our goodbyes, the flood in her eyes started breakin oh love in the rain aint such a cliche and i wonder if shes out there missin those shower kisses
ooo ooo
those boardwalk lights cut in and out

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/