

99 Lbs.

The Black Crowes

Twenty-five pounds of pure cane sugar
She's got in each and every kiss
You wouldn't know what I'm talking 'bout
If you never had a love like this Well, I don't mean to be frank with you all
It's a natural fact

Good things come wrapped up in small, small packages now
Well you can't argue with that
Oh, oh, yeah

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul, oh, oh
Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul
Twenty-five pounds of tenderness

She got in each and every touch
Twenty-five pounds of understanding my woman
Cause I was the one running 'round town worrying too much

Twenty-four pounds of Sunday
That I can't see, yeah
And it all adds up to ninety-nine big pounds
Oh, I'm talking about a feline friend

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness
Ninety-nine pounds of soul

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness

Ninety-nine pounds of soul

Ninety-nine pounds of natural born goodness

Ninety-nine pounds of soul

---

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by BRYANT, DON

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>