We're Not Crazy

Flipper

[Chorus:]
We are not crazy, were goin insane
Its not our fault you decided to blame Yourself for walkin in the front door you're gonna come back tomorrow
And pay a little bit moreIts been such a long time
Carrying on with the same old show
Its been such a strange time
The burdens on the people who just don't know
Its happening much too fast every moments made to fade or last
There is no time invloved in judgements
As I just let go of a twisted little laugh[Chorus]
Now I'm left wondering
What will become of it all
Is there a flaw in the grand scheme of things
A little tear through which it all falls are there any heroes left
In social service to human kind
As the madness intertwines to happiness
We all seem blind[Chorus]
Now if tomorrow didn't come
And yesterday had no past
You would blow your mind right away
Cause now is a concept very few can grasp
To practice it requires no effort
I don't think about it at all
And if you can't handle it
You can always get right back in line
