Hold Fast

Honor Bright

Early mornings followed by long days of doing nothing Weekends flying by with just a memory and I can't seem to slow down.
We keep wishing, we keep waiting for things to go our way.Hold the line! Never forget why you're dying to be here.
With our portraits painted by sunset horizons.I'm ready for a change of pace but this nine to five is dragging me down I need to get our of here but before I say goodbye before I lose my mind.
It's all these little things that keep me holding onHold the line! Never forget why you're dying to be here.
With our portraits painted by sunset horizons.
If it wasn't for friendship and the love of music
it wouldn't be worth doingSo make it worth it, you make it worth it To all my best friends you make it worth it
So make it worth it
To all our families you make it worth it
So make it worth it
For all your love and support you make it worth it
So make it worth it
To all of you, you make it worth it
So make it worth it.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/