Burning Bridges

Chokehold

I reach out my hands try to educate you on your crimes i'm not a fucking preacher but you have to know your destruction for the depletion and the rape of this earth you're just unaware i cannot blame you just this system for teaching us desolation the corporations are aware while the average person is not violence against one meat eater is not going to liberate one million animals we must take action against those who run the industry not the ones lied to and to take them down we must use as much violence as they do animal liberation earth liberation human liberation will only come through education
