

I Will Return

J. Tillman

One day, I Will Return to my home, to my mother's arms
One day, I'll board a plane
And fly away from the I made.

One day, I will turn from the life of sin, that I have learned one day, I will understand how to love with broken hands

One day, I will see a Lord and my chains will fall, with just one word And that one word, is the sweetest sound Saving grace falling down

One day, I will be free from this heart, lie against the sea (????)

One day, I will understand
how to love, with broken hands
