Big Electric Cat

I wanna drive to the edge of the world
Make a date with a mystery
Something lies at the edge of the world
Doesn't mean that much to me

She wants to learn what she already owes "O God it's so fantastic"Take me back to the place where the good people go

There's a face in the crowd that i think you should knowTake me back to the place where the good people go
There's a place in the crown that i think you should knowThere's a door that is covered in gold with the eyes of a stranger

Keep it closed if you're feeling the cold and you don't see the danger

She's a friend of a man on the Hill who's a friend of another

She's afraid that he'll be standing still in the year of the loverTake me back to the place where the good people go

There's a place in the crown that i think you should know

Sapphire says that she'll come to the end of the show

She's ahead of herself and i think you should know

I see you sleeping i hear you breathing i see you falling down

The world keeps turning round i see you sleeping

I see you falling down

Falling down

Falling down

Falling down
