

Fabricated

The Planet Smashers

Eleven o'clock news today, fights for TV ratings
It's hard not to believe what I see, but take warning
Media blindfolds bending the truth, suggestions telling me,
Both what I want and what I need.
We are fabricated
We are regulated
We will fight to control the truth
Their control of social trends, makes it easy to forget
The choices that I made, were never mine in the first place
But now I found out and I'm opting out to rediscover
Both what I want and what I need
We will fight to control the truth
