Harsh

Baskery

You always cast your shadow on me
Now I'm casting mine on you
Your best chances are left with nothing
Turn my back on you

Now that you're all alone,
There's nowhere left to go
Now that you're all alone,
There's no place left to go

I want you to see me,
Living the life that you'll never have
I want you to see me,
Laugh at the emptiness in your hands

You'll never fall asleep,
Knowing I'm in your dreams
I want you to see me laughing now

You never looked in to who I could be,
You only knew me for who I was
Remember I told you where I was going
But who's running now

Now that you're all alone,
Now that you're all alone,

I want you to see me,
Living the life that you'll never have
I want you to see me,
Laugh at the emptiness in your hands

You'll never fall asleep,
Knowing I'm in your dreams
I want you to see me,
Laughing now.

See me laughing now...
