

Rebound

Duds

What's the reason you are so sad
I don't think that I have seen you frown like that
    I thought that I made you smile
    But I haven't seen you do that in a while
        You say he called you
        And he said he loves you still
        In your eyes I see you miss him
Did you bring me in your life to help you deal?
    Another night
        Now I'm feeling down rebound
        My heart can't help but frown rebound
        There's enough to go around rebound
        You know I love you you know I care
    There is nothing I want more than to be there
        The words I say come as a friend
'Cause it seems the world we share's about to end
    Oh please be careful
        Don't let your heart and mind stay at war
        All the things that cause you pain
    Well it seems they are all knocking at your door
        Another night
        Now I'm feeling down rebound
        My heart can't help but frown rebound
        There's enough to go around rebound
        So I guess I'll go
        Pick up the pieces where they fall
        After all I have found
    The choice that I have left is to rebound
        Another night
        Now I'm feeling down rebound
        My heart can't help but frown rebound
        There's enough to go around rebound
        Rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound
    Rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, oh
