End Of You

Sleater-Kinney

I can feel it all around
The questions build uncertainty and doubt
I'm drowning in the doubt
I can feel it all aroundLike space between lovers
We don't feel the miles we feel the days
Oh, I feel decay
When you're gone awayI could run away from you
And never find the end of you
I could see all things unseen
And never reach the end of youOh, nothing here makes sense
Or could there be some music in the math
Am I too far to see?
Is it just out of my reach?We're more than just numbers
You can't study what your heart's singing
Now listen to the sound
I can hear it all aroundI could run away from you
And never find the end of you
I could see all things unseen
And never reach the end of youThe end of beauty
End of glory
End of healing
The end of our destinyI could run away from you
And never find the end of you
I could see all things unseen
And never reach
