

The Carpenter And The Dainty Bride

Primus

To the carpenter said the dainty bride
Th e grass appears greener on the other side
So let's clarify before we unite
The grass is never greener on the other sideTo the carpenter said the dainty bride
I pledge to you my love tonight
But I will not hesitate to euthanize
If the grass becomes greener on the other sideSaid the carpenter to the dainty bride
I would never do a thing to jeopardize
This union I consider a prize
Grass will never be greener on the other sideTo the preacher man said the dainty wife
He thought the grass was greener on the other side
So I buried in his belly my butcher knife
And ended these years of wretched strife
