

Company

Melissa Etheridge

If you ask me I will say I'm fine
All pink like birthday girls and valentines
And then the stillness of the night reminds
That I don't like to be alone
My thoughts are race cars running 'round my head
They burst into flames and crash into my bed
Until I fall into a dream instead
Where all my lovers turn to stone
And all I want is company
Someone to understand this misery
Send a reflection of myself to me
'Cause everybody needs some company
These times I'm living in just make no sense
Sometimes my face gets pushed against the fence
I want to scream out in my self defense
But I don't want to be alone
And all I want is company
Someone to understand this misery
Send a reflection of myself to me
'Cause everybody needs some company, oh
What is truth and what is fear?
Will I find it under here?
I know they're selling me a lie
But I'm the first in line to buy
First in line to try, oh
I find some sanity on the written page
Where life is worth more than a living wage
Oh, they say the battle's over now, it's time to change
Oh, and I won't ever be alone, oh
And all I want is company
Someone to understand this misery
Send a reflection of myself to me
'Cause everybody needs some company
Someone to understand this misery
Send a reflection of myself to me
'Cause everybody needs some company
Ooh, they need some company
Need some company, yeah, yeah

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>