Enter Tragedy

In Flames

Twisting tongue, fallen off the edge again
Need some space, need disgrace, I'm confused, I'm a maze
(I need for you...)
I need for you to pick me up, when I fall down
There's so much more, we can go far, but I can't control my selfish ways
Enter tragedy, slash my soul
Why is it a part of the plan?
Do you question me? I question you!
Who's the man in front of me?
I'm blindfolded, I can't see, need a reason, I'm left empty

There's so much more, we can go far, but I can't control my selfish ways
Enter tragedy, slash my soul
Why is it a part of the plan?
Do you question me? I question you!
This inner apathy, brings me to life
I know it's strange and it's draining me
I'm tired, I'm fed up with this life
Enter tragedy, slash my soul
Why is it a part of the plan?
Do you question me? I question you! I question you!
