

Alchemy

Ray Montford

[Blueprint]I spit with an immense amount of power
Skull flame showers, cowards, cower, underneath our Storm clouds that indicate the acid rain hours
 Now or, never, ever, ending on a bad note
 Ripping a crab's throat for spitting a bad quote
 (Blueprint what's your approach?)
I smash black folk and white folk alike for jokes with mics
And make a Kodak moment out of the most boring open mic
 I'll make a sad fan appreciate rap again
 Fuck around and forget just how wack it's been I'm a bad man (Why's that?)
 I catch bullets in my molars, body slam boas
 And take flight with the weight of the world on my shoulders
 And play David Blaine on any chains that hold us What started out as food for thought, turned into thoughts to turn they crews into food in hopes to satisfy my Insatiable appetite to dine on lifeforms
 Small planets and satellites
 You solar system is my condiment
I'm bombin' comets, and don't sweat the small things and nonsense
 Every dog has his day and even more so in rhyming
 So I decided that I'd never play the fire hydrant
 Or grab the mic sounding lazy, worn down and tired
 Cats don't really fall off they just get uninspired
 But before you, get a reason to ever diss us
I'll drop a ill LP and disappear like Bobby Fischer
 But this is, the building block of all that is
 And what it is, is Alchemy
 [Aesop Rock] (Chorus)
 Alchemy, basic with a touch of wild wonder
 Alchemy, we made this to take your style under
Metal frame, walking through a, metal game with a limp, tight grip
 Determined not to let time slip
 This is Alchemy, iron b-boy and all his glory
 Alchemy, hold it from the colder sob story

Metal frame, walking through a, metal game with a limp, tight grip
 Determined not to let time slip
 [Aesop Rock]Ah, dirty, dirty destiny

Birded murders with a burn gurshin a peasantry
Nervous flux flirtin' with hurley burly chemistry
Graffiti burner urchin merchant with a certain urge jerkin' served and centerpiece
My zig-zag bully balance gallops with a fiery outline
Ban and bomb y'all pastel poets belly up (I'll tell you what)
Born stylin' 4 dimensions count em'
3 to take to ya muck one to build a world you'll never touch
And I'm a pilot, delerium, serum, poison arrangement
?Aroused? when I feel like storming suck the raw enslavement
With a grin-style stinger creeping out the basement
Impatient wild ritualistic visions of sacrificial bitch cadence
For all my iron giant soldiers with a metal fist upshielding mother nature from her fatal wrist cuts story I'll respect you (So why they blaming you for the cats that sleep while the earth turns?)
Yeah I had em' up all night praying I'd re-release Music For Earthworms Greed even are lease screaming with milestone like ring ring ring I just caught the scream phoenix click dial tone
Welcome to a clouds swell blew to hallucination war pillar
Carnivore, carnival, karma slasher
I dash like a jack rabbit that orbits revelation with a single pounce
To Edward Scissorhands your string of doubts (Yo turn it out)
This is that mighty case of home field advantage to bend your blizzard With a crocodile smile and five robot knuckles to your kisser
(Chorus)
This is Alchemy, basic with a touch of wild wonder
Alchemy, we made this to take your style under
Metal frame, walking through a, metal game with a limp, tight grip
Determined not to let time slip
This is Alchemy, iron b-boy and all his glory
Alchemy, hold it from the colder sob story
Metal frame, walking through a, metal game with a limp, tight grip
Determined not to let time slip
