

What Lies Below

Gus G.

All the bridges left to cross
And the bridges yet to burn
A connection ends up lost
And we're severed from this world Just close your eyes and walk my way
If you decide to stay Beneath these lights, the darkness has no home
We cling to life, when life releases hold
And when we fall, we fall down on our own
Into what lies below Whatsoever we have lost
And whatsoever we might gain
Another battle left unfought
Another enemy remains
Just close your eyes and walk my way
If you decide to stay
