Need to Kill

Venom

Beyond two thousand in the future wars beyond the limits of our mind
Central computer that control and know the simple weakness of mankind
Humanoid living in a structured will walking in a lifeless path
Motor with a need to kill need to kill need to kill
Searching through the wreckages of molten steel and glass seeing all in infra red and heavy in its mass
Terminate exterminate the son of Connor Reese you must prevent the bastard ever being born
Stop at nothing kill at will but rid the earth of this small child you must deter this fucking evil spawn
Mark the dogs for only they know your not human your ot flesh at all
Break the jaw before it speaks and kill the men that answer to its call
Justified in genocide and leave them in theiir broken pride until they realize that it's no use
Unsuspecting victim one guerilla fighter with a gun the terminator's finally been let loose
Try to run but only they know there's nowhere to run nowhere to hide
Cornered trapped by the death machine don't you go to sleep don't close your eyes ah
Beyond twp thousand in the future wars beyond the limits of our mind
Central computer, that control and know the simple weakness of mankind
And still the armies of robotic men crushing the humans in their path
Lifeless of pain and a void of sorrow create a crimson aftermath
