

Unevensong

Camel

Sleepless nights, restless days
Memories of her gentle ways
Love locked out, look for a home
A place to find a shelter from the storm
She said, "You are the air I breathe
The life I love, the dream I weave"
Without a word, with just a touch
Now I realize, you meant so much
Been awake so long
I feel like I belong with the rain
Mornin' light appears
The feelin' of the night remains
Somewhere in between
The waking and the dream
Feel you close to me
