

Frightened Child

Natalie Imbruglia

I hear your silent scream
Deep in your private dream
Two ways to go from here
One way will bring you near, fragile wish
Full moon, no rain, no shame
That distance still remains
More shades of gray to come
We've been through more than one, close your eyes
Like a frightened child
Fragile in spirit
Like a wind blowin' wild
No name you can give it
Like an infant I see in the light for the very first time
No tricks, no slight of hand
Find somewhere safe to land
Before your walls were shaken
But now the whole thing's breakin' and it makes you feel
Like a frightened child
Fragile in spirit
Like a wind blowin' wild
No name you can give it
Like an infant I see in the light for the very first time
Yes, you're right, what is right?
Yes, it's night I can tell
Yes, it shows, yes, I know
You're a beautiful stranger to yourself
