Jesus For The Jugular

The Veils

How do you preach the word if you don't know how to read?
They hold your soul once you sign the deed
Would the sun still rise if there's no one 'round?
Would the fox be as quick if he hadn't his hound?

Let him go from me

This whole world spins with her feet off the ground
She'll make the stars applaud when she sits back down
There's a bulls blooded fountain in the pit of a moan
That I'll summon an eclipse on my way to the lord

Let him go from me

Jesus for the jugular, one at a time
Ain't nobody ever gonna ever have to die
