Today (Hallelujah!)

Ruben Studdard

The bridge is ready out the corner of my eyes
I see brides maids
The church is packed hallelujah
What a day, for a wedding
Our Father in Heaven is looking down on us smiling
The angels sing Hallelujah
What a day for a wedding
This moment was born before I knew your name.
And it's finally here, it was worth everything.
I'll say I do, you'll say I do
This moment was born before I knew your name
And it's finally here and it was worth everything
the angels sing hallelujah
what a day for a wedding
Today (what a day)
To see a wedding
Today, will last forever and ever
And ever (I do)
