Revelation

Dakona

Yesterday was the longest day I have seen
But tomorrow could be longer baby
Indecision rising up like steam
From an early morning highwayIf things were different everything might work itself out fine
I'd like to see right through the windows in your mind
I know that everyone's got something up their sleeve
So what have you got for me my babyChorus:
I'm gonna give it up I think I've had enough
I'm praying for a revelation
Could you set me free 'cause this is killing me
I'm begging for a revelation
And I know that you know the wayyeah you know the way, ohh ohhh oh ohhhTwenty-one and the lifeboat is starting to sink
Yeah the water's rushing over my face
Growing tired of living life on my knees
Yeah, I'm begging for some mercyIf things were different everything might work itself out fine
I'd like to see right through the windows in your mind
I know that everyone's got something up their sleeve
So what have you got for me and my babyChorusI'm gonna give it up because I've had enough
I'm praying for a revelation
Could you set me free 'cause this is killing me
I'm begging for a revelation
And I know that you know the way
I know now, I know that you know that way
I know now, I'm begging for a revelation.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/