Morningside

Sara Bareilles

I'm not scared of you now or so I say
There's no reason to run, although I may
I'm not as sure as I seem, this much I know
What does it mean when you leave and I follow?I could try to forget what you do when I let you get
Through to me but then you do it over again
I could rage like a fire and you'd bring rain I desire
'Till you get to me on my morningsideKeep my distance, I tried, no use, no
But no matter the miles, I'm back to youI could try to forget what you do when I let you get
Through to me but then you do it over again
I could rage like a fire and you'd bring rain I desire
'Till you get to me on my morningsideLet me down, you say never, baby blues, don't you ever
I'm used to being one with the misfortune to find
Afternoons, run for cover and full moons, just wonder
What it looks like here on my morningsideLook back, don't you dare let me start to do that I don't care if the things that I have
Only make me afraid to loseI need to let go, need to want to keep letting you know
That we both have a reason to follow
Long as we let this lead, I am barely breathingTry to forget what you do to me
But then you do it over again
I could rage and you'd bring rain
Until you get to me on my morningsideLet me down, you say never, baby, don't you ever
I'm used to being one with the misfortune to find
Afternoons, run for cover and full moons, just wonder
What it looks like here on my morningside
