Turning Away

Linnea

None of your friends come near you
They've given up trying to steer you
Because you're turning away
Turning away from love

Lately you look so ragged
The edge of your heart's become jagged
And you're turning away
Turning away from love

I say, you're turning away
Turning away from love
I say, you're turning away
Turning away from love
Well, she gives it to you without asking
A piece of her heart ever lasting
But you're turning away
Turning away from love

Just when this old world
Needs all of the love it can get
You're turning away
Turning away from the one who really cares
You're turning away from love

I say, your'e turning away
Turning away from love
I say, you're turning away
Turning away from love

Just when this old world
Needs all of the love it can get
You're turning away
Turning away from the one who really cares
You're turning away from love

I say, your'e turning away
Turning away from love
I say, you're turning away

Turning away from love

Well, she gives it to you without asking
A piece of her heart ever lasting
But you turn it away
Turning away from love

I say, your'e turning away
Turning away from love
I say, you're turning away
Turning away from love

I said your'e turning away
Turning away from love
I said you're turning away
Turning away from love

No No No,
Turning away
Turning away from love
I said you're turning away
Turning away from love
---
Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by Krekel, Tim
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/