

Moments

IY

I sit down where I've sat so many times before
Where I've laughed, and where I've cried
Hands on the keys, they whisper who I am
To the body which I am tied

There is no time, there's only moments
So I think I'll make this one mine
Rather than sitting here and waiting
For something that never comes
Until I let myself get carried away

Wanna lie with everyone I've ever hurt
Smile at all the stupid shit I've done
I've been misunderstood while I misunderstood everything
I understand now

Wanna hear everything that paints their minds
A stroke of truth in everyone
It comes together on a canvas
That knows no time

So if you wonder where I am
I'm right here, I'm right here
I'm right here, I'm right here

As I sit in the breeze these dreams come back to me
It's memories that cannot die
Those nights of mystery and smiles
And the moment reflected in my eyes

There is no time, there's only moments
So I think I'll make this one mine
Rather than sitting here and waiting
For something that never comes
Until I let myself get carried away

Lyrics submitted by Reuben.