

Backwards and Forwards

Tall Heights

Oh my god my honey
I think about it all the time
Evenings dark but sunny

Play back across my mindIn the dark walls in the back bar
In the corner of that small town
A yellow from the candle-light
I play it backwards and forwards and any way I please, no direction feels trueBut you do, you do, in a way that I'll always love

You know, you do, in a way that I'll always defend
So how do I do right by you now?

Oh my god my honey
Was I really so out of line?
The feeling once was heady
The feeling once was mineIn the currents, the ripples
The slow flow to the ocean
From the backwaters of our own lives
They pull us sideways and forwards and any way they please, no direction feels trueBut you do, you do, in a way that I'll always love

You know, you do, in a way that I'll always defend
So how do I do right by you now?In the dark walls in the back bar

In the corner of that small town
A yellow from the candle-light
I play it backwards and forwards
and any way I please, no direction feels true
But you do, you do, in a way that I'll always love
You know, you do, in a way that I'll always defend

In the dark walls in the back bar
In the corner of that small town in a way that I'll always love
I play it backwards and forwards
and any way I please in a way that I'll always defendSo how do I do right by you now?

How do I do right by you now?
How do I do right by you now?
How do I do right by you now?
