Don't Wonder Why

Stevie Wonder

You never see the little sparkle in my eye, I wonder why
Sometimes I wish, you stop and hold me
But you pass right by, I wonder why
I tried everything I could, I even change my walk
The way that I stood but you pass by me
And pretend that you don't, even see me, but I want you to knowIf one day you decide to smile
And say "Hello" and I say "Goodbye"
Don't wonder why my baby
Don't, don't wonder why my babyWhen I think of how you hurt me it brings the tears, to my eyes
I just can't seem to make you happy, no matter how hard I try
I wonder why seems like
No matter what I do, it's never good, enough for you
My pain it shows loud, but it still can't let go now
But I want you to know, nowNights grow old and winds blow cold, and so old if my loves grows cold
And I, don't wonder why my baby
Baby don't wonder why
Oh yeah!Seems like, no matter what I do, I'm never, never, never, never Never good enough for you
My pain it shows loud, oh you know I still just no matter
I just can't let go now, but I want you to knowLove me babe
Nights grow old and winds blow cold, and so old, if my love grows cold
And I, don't wonder why babe
No, no, no, no, don't wonder why my baby
Baby don't wonder why, don't wonder why my baby
Don't wonder why my baby
No, no, no, no don't wonder why my baby
Don't wonder why my baby
Can you hear me?
Can you hear me?
