

I Am Not Me

Refused

I will choose my diet with care
And like that wasn't enough
I already wrote a good bye note
To say farewell to you Your TV-world, your fake ideals
Your selfish ways, compromising truth
Nothing has to come to an end
I'm so glad, I never followed you Impossible to progress
Burn your flag to possess
The strength and knowledge
That you repress I choose my diet with comfort
And like that wasn't enough
I wrote you a thank you note
For what you tried to make of me A prepackaged blueprint
A cut to fit product
Thank you for absolutely nothing We are just blueprints, we are just products
Individuality lost to conformity, I am not me
We are just blueprints, we are just products
Individuality now means anonymity, we are not free
