

Black & Blue

Pop Evil

Don't say you're not the one to blame
You dragged me through your darkness to soak up all the rain
And don't say you didn't know much better
When you knew all along the price I pay

If I could change yesterday
I would take back the time I gave to you
Start over and rise from the black and blue

Don't say you were blind through all the silence
You led me through the violence and then you turned away
They say there's gonna be forgiveness
But did you really witness your unholy sickness

If I could change yesterday
I would take back the time I gave to you
Start over and rise from the black and blue

You deserve retribution
You have earned my revenge
And I have held my breath and clinched my fist for long enough
I won't let myself fall over you again

If I could change yesterday
I would take back the time I gave to you
Start over and rise from the black and blue

If I could change yesterday
I would take back the time I gave to you
Start over and rise from the black and blue

I don't want to live in silence
Don't say you're not to blame
Your lies are all the same
And nothing will ever change

I don't want to live in violence
Don't say you're not to blame
I can't feel the pain

With every little word you say

I'm black and blue
