

Don't Let It Trouble Your Mind

Rhiannon Giddens

Our love affair is bittersweet, insecure and incomplete
And I've often wondered why your leaving's been so long delayed
It's all become so complicated, maybe you feel so obligated
And out of sympathy for me, you stay

But I had rather live alone than live with someone who doesn't love me
And I'd rather have you go than stay and put me down thinkin' you're above me

Our love affair is so wound up, it's best that we unwind
And if you don't leave me, and don't let it trouble your mind

You've waited much too long to leave, afraid of how I'd take it
And I'm deeply touched by your concern, but I think I can make it

It won't be easy for a while, but I'll forget in time
And if you don't leave me, and don't let it trouble your mind

Our love affair is bittersweet, insecure and incomplete
And I've often wondered why your leaving's been so long delayed
