

The Look

Lucina

The look, your eyes, they have a certain light
A look that shows it'll all be alright
You look at me like I've never known before
It's a look that even I can't ignore
Take me away to a place where I belong
Where the sun shines and nothing is wrong
Take me away to a place where life is trouble free
To a place somewhere, just you and me
Your lips, your smile, the way you hold me tight
My heart, it beats for you in the night
Never thought a hold could be that strong
A hold that lasts in me even when you're gone
Take me away to a place where I belong
Where the sun shines and nothing is wrong
Take me away to a place where life is trouble free
To a place somewhere, just you and me
And where you go, I'll follow you
Cos I know you feel it too
Take me away to a place where I belong
Where the sun shines and nothing is wrong
Take me away to a place where I belong
Where the sun shines and nothing is wrong
Take me away to a place where life is trouble free
To a place somewhere, just you and me
