

Mark of the Blade

Whitechapel

I know you can feel it let it in.
People will still hate you in the end
So hate back, plan the attack
Then they'll realize they can't crackThe mind of a fucking maniac
The voice inside you always wins
Your grave's been dug so lie in it
And commit until the end
For your dear old friend
And i promise that amends will meet at the end
Why can't i be anything without you?
Because the scars will fade and you'll never age
When you give your life to the mark of the blade
The cold grasp of the past still haunts me
I will erase everything
If you give your life to the mark of the bladeYou can come with me or you can stay and grow old and let the universe swallow your rotting soul Turn a blind eye to everything or take a chance to be blind
To model ignorance
The voice inside you never quits
It'll haunt you until your dying breath
So breath in, and breathe out Reach deep within
And i promise that amends will meet at the end
Why can't i be anything without you?
Because the scars will fade and you'll never age
When you give your life to the mark of the blade
The cold grasp of the past still haunts me
I will erase everything
If you give your life to the mark of the bladeIt'll take your name beyond the grave (Give your life to the mark of the blade)
I bleed the blood,
that is cut from the blade
I bear the mark and i wont be a slave

Come with me and be saved
Why can't I be anything without you?
Because the scars will fade and you'll never age
When you give your life to the mark of the blade
The cold grasp of the past still haunts me
I will erase everything If you give your life to the mark of the blade Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>