

All Cried Out

Kree Harrison

They say when the last tear comes
You can tell by the way it falls
Its like seeing everything for the first time again
Its not like the pain is gone
Just hurts a little bit less
You know youre going to cross that line
Who knows what youre gonna to find
Its only a matter of time in the end
Im all cried out
Let it to run like a river
But its empty now
And the only consolation is that
I can lie here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause Im all cried out
I never knew I had the strength
Til I finally hit the ground
Then I had to make a choice to get up
Or stay down
For crying out loud
Im all cried out
I let it run like a river
But its empty now
And the only consolation is that
I can lie here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause Im all cried out
And the only consolation is that
I can lie here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause Im all cried out
Im all cried out
